ENGINEERS INVADE ATLANTIC CITY

—Halifax Succumbs, Mech Blows

Halifax (GUPI) — Shortly after the beginning of this month this entire fair city was subjected to an onslaught of approximately 200 engineering students from across Canada. Engineering Societies all over the country sent delegates to the Eleventh Canadian Congress of Engineering Students, where they participated in three days of workshops, lectures, and hard drinking.

Also found rampant among the students were a collection of maritime rubbies, derelicts, and other assorted riff raff who virtually destroyed the hotel of the conference on the first night. The culprits subsequently vanished, and the only other further damage incurred during the conference was the destruction of brain cells, perpetrated by the astute delegates from Memorial University in Newfoundland.

These delegates presented a very enlightening skit one night outlining the life in their home province. Among other things, the other delegates were treated to a display of anal banana splits, lunar distilled screech rum, anal boat sex, an oral discomfort. Rather interesting.

Also present at the conference were the mostly-well-dressed delegates from throughout Ontario. While the delegates from Waterloo were strong in the running for the "I've got the most three-piece suits" contest, one of the delegates from Queen's reigned champion. He was able to wear a different suit for every hour during the conference. It is reported that he even wore part of his suit to bed.

Other delegates, like the ones from UBC, Saskatchewan, and Carleton, decided to wear their bedwear to the final plenary session.

In the end it was decided that the ultimate answer to the immortal phrase "My dog has no nose" is to say, "Gee! That's terrible!" and run.

Engineering sense... "I'd rather have a bottl' in front' me than a frontal lobotomy!"

Once upon a Sodomite
There lived an artsie lad
Whose sex life was so desolate
This story is rather sad

The artsman took a drive one night
When we were all asleep.
He went out to the country,
Until he found some sheep.

The artsie wandered zealously
Into that lonesome flock,
And then he felt a wild tingle
Upon his little cock.

The artsman looked around and saw
What he thought was a fleecy ewe
And then he started petting it
To see what it might do.

The artsman finally fooled the Beast
And slipped behind so quick
He calmed the sheep from nervousness
By introducing his wee prick.

T'was the loosest hole he had ever seen
And far from being tight
And bigger than his right.

The artsman was exhausted
As he fell into the grass
And realized that it was a Ram
He was porking up the ass.

A shepherd came upon him
He tipped his woollen hat,
"What you want is pussy",
And he handed him a cat.

The sheep was much too fiesty,
Besides sodomy's a sin;
He chanced upon a little cat,
And then began to grin.

His trousers fell around his feet
His mind was full of riddles,
Of how to clutch the quadraped
And eat it's Tender Vittles.

He grabbed the tabby's hind two legs
And thrust him round the yard,
And though the wheelbarrow race was fast,
The Artsman lost his hard.

Again fatigue had won the fight
His hands were laced with cuts,
And when he sat to take a rest
A squirrel grabbed his nuts.

ONCE UPON A SODOMITE

(An engineering classic)

Once more he took the upper hand
His face grew quickly red,
He called that squirrel "peanut butter"
And ordered it to spread.

The Artsman was determined,
Determined not to fail.
He grabbed a handful of grey fur
His first real piece of tail.

Then he panted heavily
It echoed through the night
He turned the squirrel over,
Oh shit, a transvestite!

The Artsman screamed "I'm finished
I've had it, yes I'm through.
I can't have sex with anything,
Not squirrel, cat nor ewe."

Now he was bewildered.
He did not understand.
He looked upon his wrench and said,
"Introducing my right hand."

So the universal moral
That applies throughout the land,
Is if you greet an artsman,
Don't ever shake his hand.

You're prepared for a job. Now prepare for a profession.

These are challenging times for young people. And the challenge will continue even after you find a job.

You'll be competing with qualified people who are just as eager to move ahead and just as ready to work hard.

The professional edge can set you apart to help you achieve your career goals.

The Management Accounting profession is an idea whose time has come. The economic situation may be a problem for many, but it's an opportunity for the RIA Management Accountant.

The business climate has never been so competitive. Government must restrain costs while meeting social needs.

So there is growing demand and scope for RIA Management Accountants. The professionals.

As the name suggests, they are not accountants in the traditional sense of the word.

Their RIA training provides a thorough grasp of accounting principles and information systems. In addition, they are trained to interpret quantitative data from the management perspective. Their focus is on the future as they work with senior management to plan policy and achieve objectives.

So it's not surprising that so many men and women with the RIA professional edge become senior managers.

The profession is open to everyone with a taste for hard work and the will to succeed.

Business graduates, B.A.'s, B.Sc.'s, as well as other non-business graduates could qualify for RIA course exemptions and can often earn RIA accreditation in two or three years of evening study.

U of T's GAY

NEWSPAPER

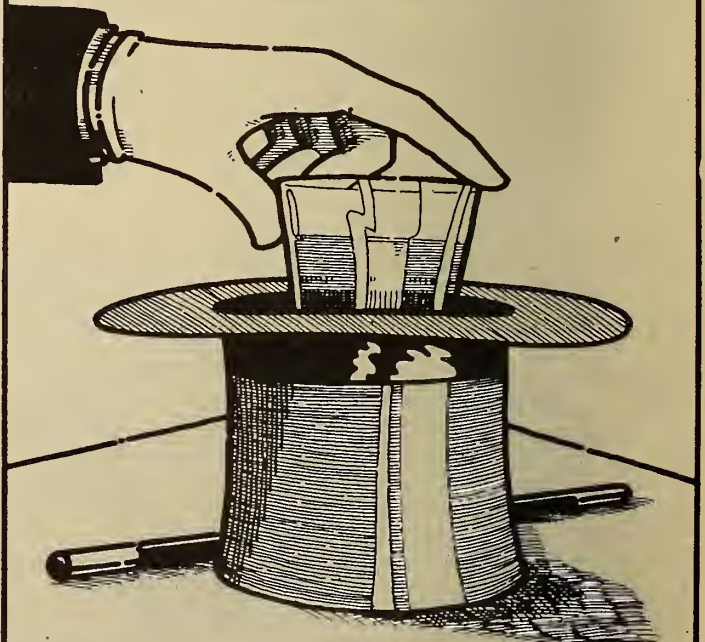

CONTINUES TO PUBLISH

This news surprised many U of T students in light of the recent Toronto-wide controversy about the body politic. Faculty heads around campus have been protesting to President Ham that University Press should not be used to encourage deviate behaviour.

"University students go through troubled periods of their lives here", says a professor who wished to remain anonymous". They need our help in a normal environment to get them back on track. This is just the first step: next thing you know, there will be a Jonestown slaughter at a gay commune, damn it! Then it will be Tool late! "It is hard to believe this is one of the same men who was also protesting against the material in that middle-of-the-road paper Toike Oike.

Students surveyed had this to say — "Fucking Queers; Ought to lock them all up together like lepers", said a sociology student. "No Way" answered a Jock. "Just kick 'em in the crotch and shove their heads up their ass." The final suggestion came from a clever Engineer who said that sending all the queers to overpopulated countries would cut the population down and starve the queers to death as well. Despite the current wave of student opinion, SAC is powerless to stop U of T's Gay Newspaper. If you believe the gay paper, one in ten students are as queer as a three dollar bill. Perhaps this is why the Varsity continues to publish!

A trick shot

CUMMING?

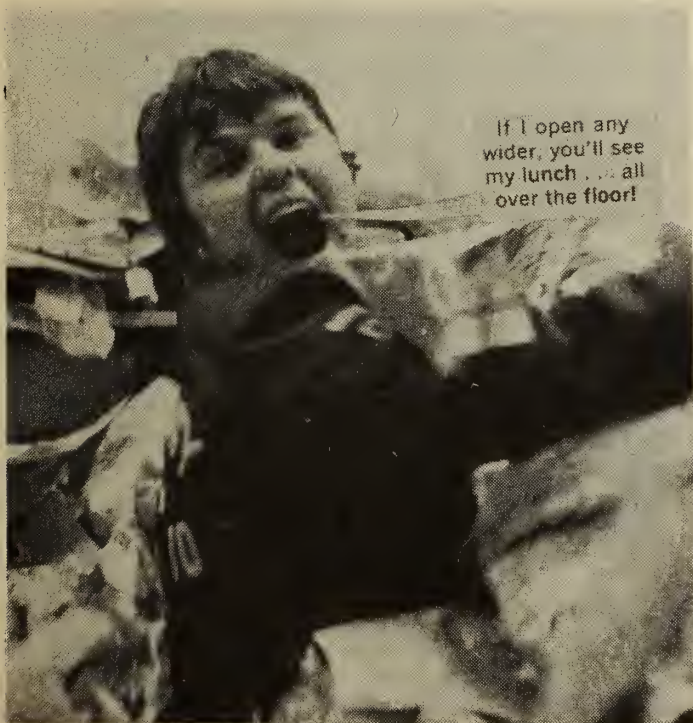

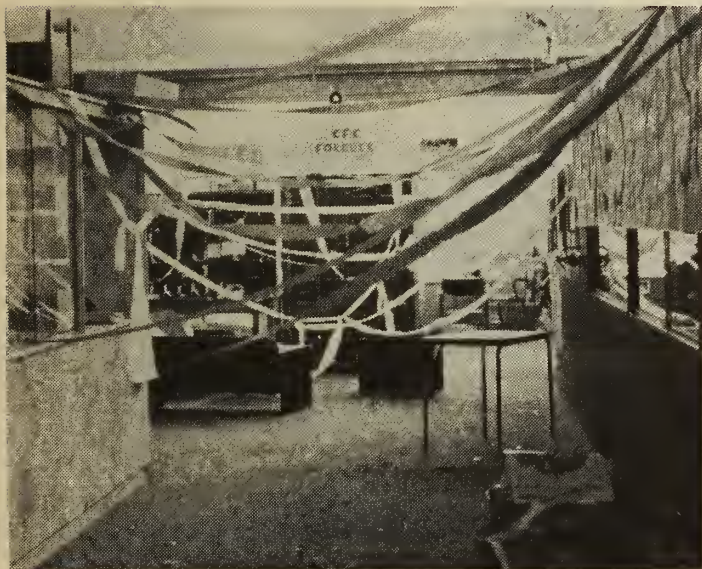

COMING UP...SKULE NITE

As if you didn't know it already, the biggest Event of the year, staged by our glorious Engineering Society is fast approaching. This is, of course, SKULE NITE 7T9, a musical-comedy-drama-intrigue-horror-thriller-romance-tragedy about nothing in particular. Nothing, that is, except the antics and exploits of the Engineers of this campus.

This year, the show is being presented in Hart House Theatre on February 28 to March 3—that's immediately following Reading Week. Since last year two nights were completely sold out, it is imperative that you buy your tickets before Reading Week. Tickets, priced at $3.00 for Friday and Saturday, will be available in the Engineering Stores after Feb. 5, or at the Hart House Box Office (978-8668) during Reading Week and the week of the show. So...step right up, get yer tickets and see the Greatest Student-Written Show on Campus!

PS: Some tickets might be available after Reading Week, but don't count on it!

HUH?

Store's workers were shocked today when they discovered a large pile of waste paper two meters high. Obviously someone thought it was a paper recycling depot.

"Obviously someone thinks we're a paper recycling depot, maybe the Varsity or The Newspaper," panted June as she frantically passed out exam reprints (still available), pencils and BFC stickers.

Santa also visited the Engineering Offices. Rob says it was just what he always wanted!

Toike New Years Resolutions

In the following year, the Toike staph resolve to...

1. Bring back joike pages.
2. Print more dead budgie pictures in response to overwhelming demand.
3. To be more sexist, informative, and to further (all the way) the cause of women everywhere.
4. To analytically prove Murphy's Laws.
5. Not miss every third week doing layout.
6. Use a dikshunary.
7. Print less Club and BNAD articles.
8. Establish a forum on sexual deviations and their relationship to statically determinate systems.
9. Not molest any rabbits (during Easter anyway). (Snow bunnies excepted.)

Ahhh...

Isn't it the best beer you've ever tasted?

Chariot Race Rules

1. Chariot.

Each chariot will have:

(i) at least two accessible wheels attached to the chariot with no human contact ever, on the ground throughout the race from start to finish (minimum size of wheels is 6 (six) inches diameter).

(ii) no sharp protruding points or other objects dangerous to contestants i.e., cutting torches, barbed wire, electric shockers, guns, knives, bombs, etc.

(iii) no maximum weight limit. Minimum weight of chariot 30 (thirty) kpounds (without driver).

(iv) human propulsion only (no gas motors, etc.).

At the start of the race, each chariot will be pointed out to its competitors by the judges. [If you wonder why this rule exists or think it silly, you haven't been in enough chariot races.]

Driver:

Driver must be:

(a) human (male or female human); or

(b) a member of Engineering Science with an official student number at the University of Toronto.

Driver must be over 18 (eighteen) years of age, or under 17 (seventeen) and accompanied by an adult. Driver must be contained within the chariot throughout the entire race from start to finish. Driver may not propel himself or chariot during entire race from start to finish. Driver must be presented to judges before race by his club chairman or representative.

3. Pushers and Pullers:

Only 8 (eight) allowed. All must be human males and/or human females.

4. Blockers:

Offensive and defensive — no limit. All must be human males and/or human females.

5. Offence and Defence.

Rule 1(ii) applies to all contestants as well as chariots. It is hoped that contestants will abide by the intent of this rule, which is designed to prevent loss of life, limbs, eyes, masculinity (or femininity), etc.

Corollary: Anyone using axe-handles, knuckle-dusters, bike chains, etc. shall automatically bring the disqualification of his or her chariot. Blockers must not carry dangerous objects such as materials of metal, glass, wood, or plastic. Biodegradable materials (two years) such as eggs, tomatoes, watermelons are permissible. No aerosol cans may be carried by anyone during the race. No stink bombs, smoke bombs, flames, etc. may be used by contestants or attached onto chariots. All contestants are reminded to behave in a sportsmanlike or sportswomanlike manner (like in NHL Hockey games).

6. Course:

On the main campus between the lines joining the markers (refer to diagram).

7. The Race:

the race shall consist of one complete running of the course in a counterclockwise direction.

8. the Time:

The Race shall commence at approximately 12:45 p.m. The race shall be started by the roar of the MIGHTY SKULE CANNON.

9. Winner:

The first chariot crossing the finish line with at least two wheels attached to the chariot and touching the ground, and still capable of rotation, and a driver still breathing and as human as he or she was at the beginning of the race, will be declared the winner, if it meets the following qualifications. To qualify to win, the chariot must:

(a) complete the course as laid out by the judges.

(b) cross the finish line with at least two rotating wheels attached to the chariot and touching the ground with no human contact or help.

(c) have a charioteer who has been contained in the chariot all the time it has been moving. A chariot without a charioteer must stop until it retrieves its charioteer. It may only retrieve charioteer by going backwards relative to course direction.

(d) the charioteer who has been contained in the chariot at the sound of the MIGHTY SKULE CANNON and who has been declared by the owners of the chariot as charioteer to the judges before the race, must be the charioteer at all times throughout all of the race, and when crossing the finish line set out by the judges.

(e) the charioteer may not move more than three feet on the ground or in the air if he or she is not contained in the chariot during the race between start and finish. For the charioteer to move any farther, he or she must be back into (his or her original position at the time of the start) the chariot.

10. The Prize:

The winning team shall receive the venerable J.P.Potts Memorial Trophy plus some other unknown prize.

11. Inspection:

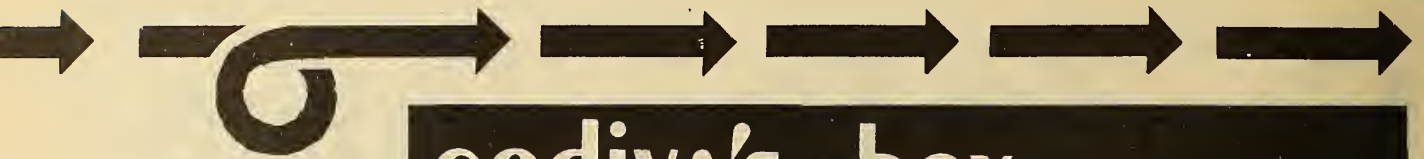

The chariots shall assemble on front campus at 12:30 sharp for the inspection by the judges. Nothing can be added to or subtracted from the chariot after inspection.

12. Eligibility

Each course may enter one Chariot which must be presented to the judges by the Club Chairman. For the purposes of this rule, the First Year Chairman. For the purposes of this rule, the First Year Chairman shall be in charge of the First Year Entry. (First Year can enter only one chariot). First Year Engineering Science will be considered to be in First Year rather than Eng. Sci. for the purposes of this section.

godiva's box

Dear Godiva,

This is an attempt to rouse the indignation of all food connoisseurs. One of the world's greatest culinary delights has been reduced to a mere shadow of its former stature. It has been trod upon by the masses, chewed with disinterest, mass produced like the Ford Pinto, and bestowed with the final and most gross indignity of all when it was shelved side by side with ketchup and relish. What, you may ask, is this fool talking about? I am speaking, of course, of the plight of the poor pickle.

This great victual deserves a better fate than what has happened to it. Did you ever stop and think about your pickle as you were eating it? Have you ever considered its history and regal upbringing? Many attempts in that past to destroy the credibility of the pickle with food lovers have failed. This noble food has passed the test of Time until now when it faces the supreme challenge.

Woe be the names of Bick's and Culverhouse for bringing about the fall of the pickle in the name of the almighty dollar. May the smell of ten thousand Jocks overcome them as they figure out next year's budget. The ultimate punishment (a stale pharmacist's fart in the fact) may be too good for them.

So, Godiva, it is with a sinking heart that I turn to you in the hope that you or one of your many readers may be able to help. Some means must be found to bring the people of the world a message which will reveal the position to which the pickle has been reduced. Only in such a manner will the pickle ever be started back on the road to its former glory.

Yours,
The Riddler
Chem Eng 7T8

Dear Godiva's Box

Who is this Ellen Bot? What gives her the right to slander the LGMB on the front page of the Barsity (Nov. 29)? It's a good thing she didn't print this verbal abuse and scriptural subordination somewhere where somebody might read it, or as a staunch supporter of the LGMB I would feel compelled to seek some sort of restitution. (I'm a masters student now, and I have to use elongated terminology.)

Dear Ellen says that the Bnad used to entertain the fans with their "Hilarious antics". She neglected to mention that the Varsity was always the first to call those antics childish. She also claims that "the audience consists of an assortment of adults, relatives of the players and friends of the coach." I don't know where Ms. Bot sits, but I'm always there with the other Bruce and Kay and Sally and Kevin and Kevin's Dad and the rest of our engineering friends sitting up there in the back row next to the Bnad's seats.

As for the Bnad, I'm sure that their absence is only temporary and that many of them have legitimate reasons for not attending; however in the past four years I have attended many games which have been played to the accompaniment of the World Famous Triple Prize Winning Quadruple Record Setting Subway Opening Subway Closing Eaton's Bothering Parade Parading Lady Godiva Memorial Quartet, or the WFTPWQRSSOSCEB-PPLGMTrio, and once even the WFTPWQRSSOSCEBPPLGMDuet (tuba and trumpet) accompanied by the two Bruces on the vocal drums. The point is, even if one or two of the LGMB can make it, the rest of us loyal fans (and believe it or not there are some of us, Coach Watt) would appreciate it. After all, it has to be better than Oh, Canada and The Theme from Rocky (no offense, Mr. Pagnello) over the Varsity Arena PA system.

Anyway, we'll see you all at the next game and prove once and for all that Ellen Bot blows.

Missen's Marauder

PS—The rest of the marauders all graduated.

Deerest (Moosest?) Box,

That rotten no gud cotton rock sucker of an editor pulled a dirty trick on me last issue (AMAZING SCIENTOIKE). That ignorant piece of Wookie-turd promised to print my 32-page report on the carcinogenic attributes of Orion dilithium, solium, and Womp rat shit. Oh, he printed it all right, and well forward, too—on page 2 down the right hand side of the page! I know, I know, all you can see is an empty box. That is the whole basis of my complaint about that lazy, git-faced, pus-brained collection of recessive genes called the Editor.

That rotten puke of an epsilon minus semi moron printed it, all righ—but in Four Fucking Dimensions!! so he could save space. The. problem is, asshole, that none of us exist in 4-D, so we CAN'T SEE IT! The thing that burns me the most, though, is that people have been complaining that the empty space is blatant filler...

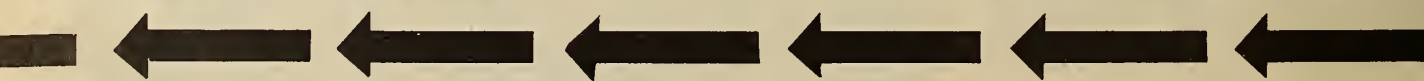

DO SOMETHING!

Yores Pissedoffedly,

MAN DIES IN AUTO ACCIDENT

A man died on the weekend as a result of injuries received in a car accident on the Burlington Skyway during the snowstorm. Mr. Art Sea's Volkswagen skidded out of control, and was struck from behind by a camper van. The force of the collision was so great that the windshield of Mr. Sea's vehicle was dislodged and shattered, allowing the C.B. AERIAL ON THE VAN TO WHIP FORWARD, LACERATING Mr. Sea's face.

At 7:35 p.m. EST that evening Art Sea was pronounced dead as a result of an infectious van-aerial disease.

Dear Godiva

Whatever happened to the BFC? This once glorious undercover operation of ENG SOC seems to have sunk into oblivion.

Dear Flrosh, every member of ENG SOC is a member of the BFC. This means YOU! And you should be proud of it! What other organization that you can belong to will let you do great things like at the stroke of midnight, on Hallowe'en, pack the SAC orifice with 800 Pumpkins (and 2 zucchini)? Or put a car in the second floor office of the president of the university? Or march down St. George Street in a pin-striped suit and a submachine gun for a showdown with the Mario's Bakery Boys? Or call up a squad of Blue Hardhats to block the doors as 250 screaming artsies try to force their way into your lecture room at 9:58? All this and more happened just last year.

What other organization can offer you unlimited free booze and sex, free admission to all Engineering Activities, on the job training on their learn as you pillage plan, a Dick Tracey watch, a Mickey Mouse decoder ring, and infamy?

The lively hood of the BFC is being endangered by Mario's boys. Mario's Bakery is a mafia front for a gang that's trying to muscle in on BFC territory. Last year they were taken care of in the Saint Valentines day massacre, but this scene may have to be repeated this year if they cause us more trouble. Unlike the BFC, Mario's bakery does exist, (in Newark, New Jersey).

Two years ago the BFC was credited with moving the CN Tower two feet sideways, but few people seem to have noticed yet.

So if you see some artsie that needs to be taught a lesson, or some SKULE object or event that needs a protective escort, or any other job that requires stealth and Brute Strength and SKULE, call on your very own Brute Force Committee. (They have keys for everything.) So go talk to da Chief. Tell him what needs to be done. Get involved! Support your local BFC. It's the only one in the universe!

14. Waivers

All blockers, pullers and charioteers must sign the waiver before the race. Anyone who refuses to sign and then races, does so at his own risk.

15. Apparel

All contestants should wear protective head gear.

16. Loans

All chariots stolen or otherwise removed shall be returned by 10:00 a.m. on the day of the race to their owners or the theiving team will be disqualified.

17. Judges

The judges consist of the Blue and Gold Chairman and two other persons chosen by the Blue and Gold Chairman. The judges must be fourth year students of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering at the University of Toronto and they must not be of the same course.

The judges can disqualify a chariot even if it finishes the race first, if it has broken any of the above set rules. The winner can be declared any time after the race, but before June 1978. Once the winner is declared, no change can be made.

The rules can be changed 48 hours before the beginning of the race, by the Blue and Gold Chairman only.

The judges will accept all bribes cheerfully.

An Engineer and an artsman were in the washroom at a bar, taking a piss. As the artsman went about his business there, he couldn't help but notice the Engineer's huge massive tool. "How did you get such a large cock?" the artsman incredulously inquired. "I soak it in oil twice a day", said the Skuleman.

"Do you think it would work for me?" asked the artsman, turning to reveal his pitiful two inch disgrace.

"Sure; It will work for anybody".

The next week, the Engineer was drinking and partying with the other Engineers in the bar when the artsman came up behind him and clouted him with a beer mug.

The Engineer, dazed, turned and asked "What did you do that for?"

The enraged artsman dropped his drawers and revealed a prick which had shrunk to ¼ inch. "You bastard - you told me that if I soaked it in oil twice a day, it would get bigger."

"That's true", said the Engineer, puzzled. "What kind did you use?"

"Crisco".

"Ah", smiled the Engineer. "You dumb fuck - that's shortening."

A few months back, A Well Known Toike B.F.C. Liason Ocifier (AWKTBFCLO) who shall remain anonymous, had found the girl of his dreams—Anne nurse.

After suitable field testing, Dave decided that his bachelor days were numbered, and gathering all his Industrious courage, decided it was time; and requested an audience with the Carnegie clan.

With hat in hand, Dave addresses the head of the clan:

"I am asking, sir," blurted the highly formal and also highly nervous engineer, "for your daughter's hole in handy matrimony!"

I've got leprosy. what's eating you?

Little John-Boy's daddy was repairing a cabinet (John-boy's mom's (no hinges)) and he was short one screw. He thus called and explained to him to go to the hardware store and buy a screw, but not to pay more than five cents for it. So John-Boy walks down the street and misses the hardware store by a door (unknowingly) and enters a house of ill repute. He walks up to the counter and asks for a screw.

"For forty bucks we can give you Brigitte Bardot", replies the man behind the counter.

"No, you idiot, I want a 5¢ screw!"

"Well sir, for $20.00 we can give you Pharaoh Fawcett."

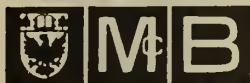

"You fuckin' asshole. I wanna screw for 5¢", responds John-Boy.

"Sir; for $5.00, we can give you Margaret Trudeau."

"You cocksuckin' whoredog, I want a 5¢ screw", He thundered.

On that note, the man behind the counter turned around and yelled into the backroom: "Hey, Freddy, "Grease the cat's ass!"

Did you hear about the angel who spread her legs instead of her wings? She got an organ instead of a harp.
